GOOD CLINICAL PRACTICE WORKSHOP

3-4 December 2009, Borobudur Hotel—Jakarta.

These are exciting and challenging times for both researchers and drug companies, as more and more compounds are being tested here in Asia.

With more human subject involvement, it is no surprise that the clinical trials are scrutinized under the watchful eyes of regulatory authorities, the ethics committee and the public in general. With these reasons in mind, we have specially designed a program to ensure that you will understand and apply the most important fundamental of Clinical Research, the Good Clinical Practice.

The Good Clinical Practice (GCP) represents the operational standards in Clinical Drug Development and ensures that clinical trials meet ethical and scientific standards.

In this 2-day GCP workshop, you will be exposed to the theoretical and operational aspects of core Clinical Trials Management activities. Participants will get a step by step understanding of the clinical trial management process, from drug discovery to the conduct of a clinical trial. Ethical issues involved and potential problems faced in clinical trials will be covered through mind-stimulating and interactive discussion based on examples and exercises. We believe that it is important that participants will put what they are learning to use, and they will be evaluated on their knowledge through a GCP Test. Participants who pass the test will receive a certificate exclusively issued by GleneaglesCRC Pte. Ltd, endorsed by Murdoch University, Western Australia.

Who should attend?

- ✓ Clinical research professionals in the pharmaceutical and biopharmaceutical industry, clinical research organizations, and research institutions.
